

9/11: What Planes? Just a Video Composite

Description

Here is the rendering to scale of the Boeing 757 hitting the Pentagon:

Smoke billows from the Pentagon on September 11, 2001. Photo: AFP / Stephen Jaffe

Below is the result of the impact, Boeing 757's exit out of the Pentagon's first row of concrete offices (back of the impact entry point).

Can a Boeing 757, essentially a hollow aluminum tube, cut through massive steel columns, wings and all, without even slowing down? If you haven't seriously thought about where did the planes disappear, the answer is: no real planes were involved in 9/11 as Ace Baker convincingly demonstrated in his 2012 film *9/11 The Great American Psy-Opera*:

Really remarkable photos refuting "official story"

The official story claimed that the aircraft PENETRATED to the THIRD ring of the building. Clearly, the only damage is to the FIRST ring. The second ring appears undamaged. Given the wingspan of the plane, only the fuselage should have entered the building, the wings and tail should have broken off and been on the lawn outside.

Part 7 – 8:

Part 6 – 8:

For a shorter version, see the 18-minute collation of the most telling excerpts of the series, made by Laurent Guyénot :