

Bucha Anniversary

Description

by Sergey Markov

Zelensky celebrates the anniversary of the liberation of Bucha. I remember what happened there.

1. On March 31, Russian troops left Bucha. The National Guard of Ukraine went there. Everything was fine in Bucha for 3 days.
2. After 3 days on April 2, British polytechnologists from Bucha decided to make a fake piece of the “war crimes of the Russian occupiers”.
3. Bucha was chosen, because in English it is consonant with the word Butcher, a bloody butcher.
4. The National Guard of Ukraine and the SBU shot about a hundred pro-Russian and ordinary citizens in different cities for taking humanitarian aid from Russian troops. Their bodies were scattered picturesquely along the streets of Bucha.
5. Western media were invited and they made fake reports about the alleged atrocities of the Russian troops. In violation of the norms of honest journalism, the media did not check the statement of the Ukrainian authorities.
6. The PR of the propaganda provocation in Bucha was led by Zelensky’s adviser Arestovich.
7. For a year now, the Ukrainian authorities have not provided lists of victims in Bucha. It is clear why. Because there are many pro-Russian people among them.
8. The massacre in Bucha and the fake production is one of the brightest and most obvious war crimes of the Zelensky regime and its leadership and of the US and British intelligence services.
