

NATO Conference – Grandstanding Rhetoric, while Smelling Defeat

Description

A very agitated NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg said that if Ukraine does not prevail as a “sovereign and independent nation” then the question of Ukraine’s membership in NATO is no longer.

But isn’t that what Russia demands?

China refuses to condemn Russia’s war against Ukraine. China is increasingly challenging the foundations of the “international rules-based world order”, so the allies will work together against such behavior by China.

International rules-based world order, but not international law... ?!

Wait a minute, doesn’t China have a right to choose its own path just like Ukraine? And if so, then what are you, Jens, going to do vis-a-vis China?
