

Not A Great Day For Liberal Woke “Marxists”

Description

by Capitalist Exploits

This was the remark from Lucas when we at HQ were viewing the following.

And this beauty...

Then this...

While on the topic of imbeciles, morons, and clowns, there's also this:

The mine is so important for Warsaw that it has in effect been paying the EU to keep it open. Poland defied the court's 2021 interim order for it to stop mining and refused to pay the resulting daily fine of €500,000. In response, the European Commission began deducting the fine from EU funds earmarked for Poland — withholding €68mn in total — while Poland separately paid €45mn to the Czech Republic in compensation for environmental damage and to get Prague to drop its lawsuit. Brussels has also excluded the region around Turów from EU subsidies for places that transition away from fossil fuel production.

It's almost as if they need coal.

Speaking of which, Turkiye, a country I've been telling you is NOT going to go along with the woke ESG shullbit, just tossed the climate alarmists aside like a rag doll.

Jeez! Doesn't he realise the existential threat to humanity here? Clearly an unhinged extremist. Probably misogynistic, too. Definitely actually, after he arrested all the pink-haired folks who were trying to parade their bits in front of children in Istanbul during pride month.

From the article:

President Recep Tayyip Erdogan on Monday dismissed environmental protests over the felling of trees to expand a coal mine in southwest Turkey, saying the campaign was led by "marginals".

Marginals? So he's not going to let a few radicals dictate to the majority? Must be undemocratic.

This power plant, which produces almost two-thirds of the electricity consumed in the southern Aegean, contributes around one billion dollars annually to our country's economy," Erdogan said in a televised address after the weekly cabinet meeting.

He said the power plant needed to continue production with new coal basins as the existing reserves were close to depletion.

Coal power plants have become once again a major source of energy in European countries after the crisis that broke out with the Russia-Ukraine war," he said.

"Although some are constantly and persistently trying to re-play the same scenarios with different skins, nobody is deceived by this game anymore," Erdogan said.

He can't possibly be referring to the Soros-sponsored "NGOs" that have actively been working throughout Eastern Europe and the Caucasus. Nah, that's crazy talk.

Actually, on the entire climate change fraud, I found this:

Now, to be clear... before we get any hate mail telling us what a bad man little Erdy is, realise this. They are ALL power hungry psychos. They are simply psychos with differing agendas, and it is our job to arbitrage those agendas for our own prosperity and freedom where possible.
