

Biden: Yes, to a Replay of WWII – Russia: Not so Fast

Description

Biden just announced the results of the upcoming war, World War Three, for which the US just gave the go-ahead:

“We spent 50 years in the post-war period where it worked pretty damn well, but now the steam has kind of run out. Looks like the steam has come out. We need a new, new world order,”

To which Russia responds NYET: Kremlin spokesperson Dmitry Peskov states:

“Whatever new world order the US envisions, it means an American-centric world order. A world revolving around the US. This will not be anymore.”
