

October 7, 2023: Hamas, from the Resistance

Description

Some philosophers say that 'lifetime' is not measured by years, meaning those resulting from the Earth's orbit around the sun, but by the hours a person has benefited from in their life. While someone may reach the age of 100 in numerical terms, their actual lived experience may be condensed into just a few months or years on a real scale.

As for the seventh of October, the freedom fighters did not write just one 'lifetime' in just one day, they added a credit of life for everyone who lived with them, witnessed them, and for everyone who will follow them. Freedom fighters and martyrs embody the essence of true life. They are the creators of life.

A compilation of the historical scenes from the seventh of October in one video.
