

Why Did I Move Out of the US

Description

Answer: The disintegration of the US along racial, class, gender, etc. lines, not unlike South Africa.

So, America is heading the direction of South Africa.

Though we aren't in the same abysmal state as of yet, we are in a very dangerous situation where we can see the cliff ahead – South Africa-style chaos – but run toward it at full speed regardless

A competent, self-confident society would change course before it's too late. But, like South Africa, we might just commit civilizational suicide instead
