

“The Antisemitism Awareness Act of 2023“

Oval Office in the White House on April 5, 2020.

In my last article I discussed the new Bill that the U.S. House of Representatives passed this week titled “The Antisemitism Awareness Act of 2023“, which had bipartisan support. See:

**Zionist Christians Get Wake-up Call: New Law Defining “Antisemitism” Means Denying the Biblical Record that Jews Condemned Jesus to Death!**

As you can observe from the title of the Bill that now heads to the Senate, the language for this Bill was written last year, 2023, after the Hamas military attack in Israel, and pre-dates the current student protests over the war in Gaza that began a few weeks ago.

In fact, the language for this Bill was drafted under President Donald Trump, written by his son-in-law Jared Kushner, and was then enacted as a Presidential Executive Order on December 11, 2019.

Here is the 24-minute video of the entire ceremony from that day:

Trump signs executive order combating anti-Semitism

At around the 17-minute mark in this video, you can listen to Trump thank the “Evangelical Pastors” who were there, and he specifically mentions Pastor Robert Jeffress, who is the Pastor of the First Baptist Mega Church in Dallas Texas, one of the largest Zionist churches in the U.S.

As Trump introduces him, he says:

I didn't know him, but I watched him, and I'd watch him on different shows and I said: I like that guy. Man he talks really great about me, and I like people who talk well about me. He was saying, "you know he may not be the greatest Christian I have ever seen, he may not know the Bible quite as well as the rest of us, in fact, he may not know it very well at all, but that guy's a real leader, and he's gonna do a job."
I appreciated that statement.

Then, after admitting that Trump was ignorant about what the Bible says, Pastor Jeffress states:

I believe President Trump is the most pro-faith President in history.

Why would he say that of a man who doesn't even know what the Bible says?

Because Donald Trump furthered the Zionist agenda more than any other president before him. The text for that executive order that criminalizes "antisemitism" had never been able to be passed as law in the U.S. Congress, because it basically renders the First Amendment as null and void, and so by Trump's own admission in this video, he stated that he just did it himself anyway, because as President of the United States, he now had the power to do so.

Trump's Executive Order Still Stands – So Why the Need for this Bill that Mike Johnson Introduced?

I checked to see if Trump's executive order on antisemitism from 2019 had been revoked by President Biden, and it has not.

So this begs the question: If Trump's EO on antisemitism is still in effect, then why did the Zionists need this new Bill introduced to the House by Rep. Mike Johnson, which easily passed with bipartisan support?

The reason seems to be that under the Biden administration, Trump's EO is being used to represent not only Zionist Jews who feel they are being discriminated against on college campuses, but also students of other faiths as well, such as Arab Muslims, who are also using Trump's EO to file discrimination lawsuits.

This is apparently because Trump linked his EO to the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

As campuses across the country continue to erupt in protests over the Israel-Hamas war, a little-known 2019 presidential executive order is expected to fuel a flood of student legal claims against universities.

Attorneys — from a mix of white-shoe corporate firms to Jewish advocacy groups — are meeting with students who say their schools are failing to protect them from antisemitic or anti-Israel conduct.

In 2019, then-President Donald Trump signed an order instructing federal officials to expand the interpretation of Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act to include “discrimination rooted in anti-Semitism” as a form of discrimination based on race, color and national origin — prohibited behavior for programs that get federal funding. Trump signed the order amid a series of violent incidents against Jews, including the 2018 killing of 11 congregants in a Pittsburgh synagogue and a 2019 attack that killed three inside a Kosher supermarket in New Jersey.

Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act does not include the word “religion” as a subject of discrimination. Because the law does not list religious characteristics, legal experts say, federal officials have gradually expanded interpretations to include ethnoreligious groups. “Oh, my God, I can't tell you how many campuses we're dealing with every single day. We have never been so inundated with cases,” said Marcus, who now runs the Brandeis Center for Human Rights, a nonprofit group focused on protecting the civil rights of Jews.

For years, Marcus has also been fighting to broaden Title VI protections to members of other ethnoreligious groups. He said prior to the Trump administration, he wrote guidance memos that said Title VI could be interpreted to include protecting members of other ethnoreligious groups such as Sikhs and Arab Muslims. But in 2019, Trump kept his executive order focused on protecting Jews.

In September, President Joe Biden issued a statement noting that Title VI also prohibits Islamophobic activities in federally funded programs. But the Department of Education has not released a detailed memo that defines Islamophobia as it has done for antisemitism.

Gadeir Abbas, a senior litigation attorney with the Council on American-Islamic Relations, said his team is preparing discrimination complaints on behalf of Muslim and pro-Palestinian students, who he says are being unfairly labeled as Hamas sympathizers or unfairly accused of providing support to terrorists.

“I think that pro-Israel groups, groups that are seeking to marginalize Palestinian voices on campus, see the Title VI claim as a way of attacking not the administration, but the other student groups,” Abbas said. “The idea is that [they’re] going to censor or penalize or punish any advocacy for equal rights of Palestinians.”

As a result, he said, Palestinian students — or students who say they support Palestinian civilians in Gaza — feel vulnerable on campus and in their communities, and some are considering filing their own Title VI claims. (Full article.)

So having failed to meet their objectives with the Trump EO from 2019, the Zionists are trying, once again, to codify the meaning of “antisemitism” and criminalizing anyone who does not comply with their definition of “antisemitism”, which includes denying that Jesus Christ was the Jewish Messiah.

What are the Noahide Laws?

As I reported in my last article about this new House Bill that is now heading to the Senate, every U.S. President since 1991 has signed a proclamation affirming the Jewish Noahide laws on the “Day of Education and Knowledge Sharing in the United States” just before Passover.

Here is a description of the original proclamation which has been signed by every U.S. President since Jimmy Carter.

Education and Sharing Day is a day established by the United States Congress in honor of the Rebbe, Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson.

It calls for increased focus on education, and recognizes the lifelong efforts of the Rebbe for education.

Since 1978, Education & Sharing Day, USA, has been proclaimed by the president each year on the Rebbe’s birthday on the Jewish calendar, 11 Nissan, which is four days before Passover and thus generally can fall between March 21 and April 21 on the Gregorian calendar.

President Ronald Reagan wrote in his proclamation of 1982:

One shining example for people of all faiths of what education ought to be is that provided by the Lubavitch movement, headed by Rabbi Menachem Schneerson, a worldwide spiritual leader who will celebrate his 80th birthday on April 4, 1982. The Lubavitcher Rebbe's work stands as a reminder that knowledge is an unworthy goal unless it is accompanied by moral and spiritual wisdom and understanding. He has provided a vivid example of the eternal validity of the Seven Noahide Laws, a moral code for all of us regardless of religious faith. May he go from strength to strength.

In recognition of the Lubavitcher Rebbe's 80th birthday, the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled have issued House Joint Resolution 447 to set aside April 4, 1982, as a "National Day of Reflection."

President George H. W. Bush wrote in his proclamation of 1989:

It is fitting that we honor Rabbi Schneerson and acknowledge his important contributions to society. Our great Nation takes just pride in its dedication to the principles of justice, equality, and truth. Americans also understand that we have a responsibility to inspire the same dedication in future generations. We owe a tremendous debt to Rabbi Schneerson and to all those who promote education that embraces moral and ethical values and emphasizes their importance. In recognition of Rabbi Schneerson's vital efforts, and in celebration of his 87th birthday, the Congress, by House Joint Resolution 173, has designated April 16, 1989, and April 6, 1990, as "Education Day, U.S.A."

President Bill Clinton wrote in his proclamation of 1995:

"Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson, the Lubavitcher Rebbe, well understood the importance of nurturing the heart along with the mind. Throughout his long and rich life, he believed that the education of our young people would only be successful if it sought to build character as well as intellect, if it taught the lessons of honesty, tolerance, and good citizenship, as well as language, math, and science.

This year, let us rededicate ourselves to teaching the love of learning that was championed by Rabbi Schneerson and is strengthened by caring leaders like him throughout our Nation. As we provide our students with the information and practical tools they need, let us also pass on to them the capacity for understanding that can help to give fuller meaning to their lives."

President George W. Bush wrote in his proclamation on Education and Sharing Day 2007:

"Education and Sharing Day honors The Rebbe and emphasizes our commitment to teach the next generation of Americans the values that make our country strong. The Lubavitcher Rabbi believes that society should 'make a new commitment to kindness,' and he helped to establish education and outreach centers offering social service programs and humanitarian aid around the

President Barack Obama wrote in his proclamation on Education & Sharing Day 2009:

“Few have better understood or more successfully promoted these ideas than Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson, the Lubavitcher Rebbe, who emphasized the importance of education and good character. Through the establishment of educational and social service institutions across the country and the world, Rabbi Schneerson sought to empower young people and inspire individuals of all ages. On this day, we raise his call anew.”

President Donald Trump wrote in his proclamation on Education & Sharing Day 2017:

“Education and Sharing Day recognizes the remarkable efforts of Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson, the Lubavitcher Rebbe, to use values-based education to drive our Nation’s children toward the American Dream. As an educator, Rabbi Schneerson understands that education is incomplete if it is devoid of moral development. Working through a spirit of optimism, he strived [ sic] to teach children to be honest, civil, respectful of differences, and self-disciplined, in addition to being intellectually rigorous.”

President Joe Biden wrote in his proclamation on Education and Sharing Day 2022:

“The Rebbe’s work reminds us, in the words of the Prophet Amos, to “hate evil, love good, and establish justice in the gate.” We each share a responsibility to live up to those words — in and out of the classroom — and to plant the seeds of love, kindness, and empathy in the hearts and minds of every child in America... Today — on what would have been the Rebbe’s 120th birthday — let us celebrate all the educators, advocates, and pioneers who teach young people the lessons that create caring neighbors and closer communities.”

The 1991 bill described the Noahide Laws as the “ethical values and principles which are the basis of civilized society and upon which our great Nation was founded”. (Source.)

It was difficult for me to locate a copy of these Noahide Laws in English, but they were documented at JewishEncyclopedia.com, although that entry has now apparently been deleted.

There is a copy on Archive.org.

The Noahide Laws are allegedly from the Babylonian Talmud. The Noahide Laws are stated to be universal and binding upon “Gentiles” (non-Jews) only.

They state:

With but a few exceptions, the punishment meted out to a Noachid for the transgression of any of the seven laws is decapitation, the least painful of the four modes of execution of criminals.

“Idolatry and blasphemy” are Noahide Laws that are punishable by death, and within the definition of idolatry and blasphemy is the belief that Jesus Christ was the Jewish Messiah.

Here is a video of a policeman in Israel who admits to following these laws, and that if a Sanhedrin was in session, it would be his duty to kill idolaters, such as Christians.

A Zionist Jew named Amy Reissner recently emailed me and stated that the Noahide Laws are real.

One of the hallmarks of Judaism is the Torah given to the Jewish people. Jewish people who are Torah observant live by the covenant and try to perform the 614 commandments. We were given the Torah to bring G-D's light to the world.

The Noahide laws, which include the 10 commandments are for people not of the Jewish faith. Not sure where you get your beliefs from but Jesus was Jewish and he was not and is not the messiah. Once meshiach comes, the Divine light of peace and holiness and salvation will arrive on Earth.

And as the Noahide Laws indicate, execution is by decapitation.

Revelation chapter 20 verse 4 states:

I saw thrones on which were seated those who had been given authority to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded because of their testimony for Jesus and because of the word of God. They had not worshiped the beast or his image and had not received his mark on their foreheads or their hands. (Revelation 20:4)

Altiyan Childs, the Australian Freemason whistleblower, discusses this in his 5-hour+ documentary on Freemasonry.

I clipped out this section into a separate video that is just over 4 minutes long:

Altiyan Childs also discusses the film “Grey State” that he says exposed Freemason Zionist intentions. But the film was never released, because the producer, David Crowley, who was an Iraq War veteran, was found dead with his wife and young daughter.

The trailer from 2012 is still found on YouTube, and many of the scenes in this fictional film actually came true in 2020-2021 with COVID:

Zionist Jews believed that Donald Trump was the “Champion of Noahide Law” while President, and they want him back in office.

Donald J. Trump: Champion of Noahide Law

‘During his almost four years in office, Donald Trump has been the greatest supporter of Noahide law in US history.’

This article is dedicated to observant and traditional Jews, to the growing Noahide movement in the US, and to all Americans of faith.

My call to all of you is to personally go to the polls on Tuesday and to support President Donald Trump for reelection.

During his almost four years in office, Donald Trump has been the greatest supporter of Noahide law in US history and he must be reelected if only for that reason. (Source.)

The Claim that Donald Trump Converted to Judaism and that Jared Kushner is the Jewish Messiah

If you watched the video above from Fox News on Trump's ceremony at the White House when he signed his Executive Order on antisemitism in 2019, he almost admits that he is a Jew, but comes just short of that claim by stating that:

"I'm very proud that the Jewish faith is a cherished part of our family. Very proud of it."

There had been rumors among some Zionist Jews that Donald Trump had converted to Judaism in 2017, but was afraid to go public with his conversion due to the backlash he would have received from Evangelical Christians.

The source was allegedly a Jewish woman who worked for Trump in the White House. The main source for this information was from a man named David Goldberg, and Henry Makow claims that this man was a Mossad Jewish agent sowing disinformation.

But the rumor also stated that Jared Kushner, who openly admits he is a Jewish member of the Chabad Lubavitch sect, and is the son-in-law of Donald Trump, is the prophesied Jewish Messiah.

This rumor actually has some evidence to back up this claim, and a video produced in Hong Kong presents a lot of this evidence.

I don't agree with everything in this video in terms of eschatology (the study of the end times), but the video footage and news articles that they document are very impressive.

It is an incredible production, and it is just under 20 minutes long.

One thing I learned from this video is that Jared Kushner paid $1.8 billion to acquire the building 666 on 5th avenue in New York just across from the Rockefeller Center, which at the time was the largest sum of money ever paid for a single office building in the U.S.

The other interesting piece of news revealed in this video is that George Soros provided a $250 million line of credit to the Kushner's company that bought this building. (Source.)

Jared's father Charles Kushner was convicted of illegal campaign contributions, tax evasion, and witness tampering, and served time in Federal Prison, until President Trump pardoned him on his last day in office.

It was later revealed that one of Trump's NYC attorneys, Rudy Giuliani, was selling Presidential pardons for $2 million each. (Source.)

Conclusion: Will Zionists Finally Become Successful in Legislating the Noahide Laws?

It will be interesting to see if this Bill just passed by the House of Representatives on a new definition of "antisemitism" will actually become law, as Zionists have been attempting to do this for decades now.

If it does, how many Americans will defy this blatant attempt to nullify the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution that protects Freedom of Speech and Freedom of Religion, and face the consequences, or support the Zionist religious agenda, by pledging their support to Zionism?

This calls for wisdom. If anyone has insight, let him calculate the number of the beast, for it is man's number. His number is 666. (Revelation 13:18)
