

China, the Big Puzzle

Description

The Chinese are NOT sending troops to a country and bombing them back to the stone age. The reality is the Chinese are treating other countries as Sovereign. That means as a Sovereign country, you can do as you wish. If countries do not see a win/win situation, they can choose to walk away. How hard is this to understand? Examples of “smaller” countries dealing with China: